

Noteworthy Endorsements

“The argument that you set forth is the first irrefutable and secular statement against the abortion advocates.” “One of the major problems in the abortion debate has been the charge that the pro-life position is, of necessity, grounded in religion. [A Purely Secular Argument Against Abortion] and the reasoning it contains takes that assertion away from the murderers. By appealing to the soul of the national conscience, exclusive of religious concerns, you have given new life to a rational yet secular reason to oppose abortion.”

David P. Schippers
Schippers & Bailey
February 11, 2002

Mr. Schippers has been a practicing trial attorney for over 40 years and is considered America’s foremost Constitutional trial attorney. When the United States House of Representatives decided to proceed with an impeachment trial of President Clinton in 1998, it turned to Mr. Schippers (in fact a Democrat) to build and present the impeachment case. President Clinton was successfully impeached. Under Attorney General Robert Kennedy in the 1960’s, Mr. Schippers was in charge of the Justice Department’s Organized Crime and Racketeering Unit, which convicted high profile mobsters such as Sam Giancana and Sam Battaglia.

“A Purely Secular Argument Against Abortion points out that if the Declaration of Independence means anything, it means that the rights of the innocent must be protected. That is a powerful truth, a truth too much ignored today. One day the silliness of Roe v. Wade will be overcome, and its evils brought to a halt. A Purely Secular Argument Against Abortion fights ably for that day.”
